THANKSGIVING FAMILY FEUD
HOW TO PLAY:

Option 1: Worksheet Style (Everyone Writes Answers)

You'll need:

- A printed blank game sheet for each player or team
- A host to read the questions aloud
- Pens or pencils

How to play:

1. The host reads each question aloud.
2. Everyone writes down their top guess for each question.
3. When finished, the host reads the official answers from the answer key and awards points.
4. The team (or player) with the highest score wins!

Option 2: Host Game Style

Perfect for family gatherings or parties. This version feels just like the TV show — loud, fast-paced, and full of laughter!

You'll need:

- A printed host sheet with all questions, answers, and point values
- Two or more teams
- One host or game leader

How to play:

1. The host reads a question aloud ("Name a food you eat at Thanksgiving that isn't turkey").
2. Teams take turns shouting their best guesses.
3. The host awards the listed points for each correct answer.
4. Play through the rounds and tally up scores at the end.

Scoring Tips:

- Assign one player to keep score on a whiteboard or sheet.
- Each correct answer earns the number of points listed.
- Team with the highest total score wins!
